WHAT IS THE UNIVERSITY DIGITAL CONSERVANCY?

The University Digital Conservancy is a program that provides reliable long-term open access, broad dissemination, and preservation for works produced by individuals and programs affiliated with the University of Minnesota. Materials in the Conservancy are freely available online to the world.

The Conservancy is not related to or affiliated with ProQuest – it is a separate “location” for your work, permanently hosted and preserved by the University of Minnesota Libraries. Works contributed to the Conservancy serve as a permanent University of Minnesota record of your scholarship.

In the Conservancy, your work will be:

- preserved for the long-term, with a permanent, stable URL
- more visible and findable, with higher-ranked results in search engines like Google Scholar
- freely and openly accessible worldwide

WHAT ABOUT COPYRIGHT?

You own the copyrights in your work, and contributing your work to the Conservancy does not change its copyright status. When you agree to have your dissertation deposited in the Conservancy, you grant the University non-exclusive rights necessary in order for us to store your work, preserve it, and make it available to the public. Your work will be protected by U.S. copyright law to the same extent it would be if the user checked out your print dissertation from the library.

UNIVERSITY DIGITAL CONSERVANCY DEPOSIT AGREEMENT

By depositing this Content (“Content”) in the University Digital Conservancy (“Digital Conservancy”), I agree that I am solely responsible for any consequences of uploading this Content to the Digital Conservancy and making it publicly available, and I represent and warrant that:

- I am either the sole creator and the owner of the copyrights and all other rights in the Content; or, without obtaining another’s permission, I have the right to deposit the Content in an archive such as the Digital Conservancy.
- To the extent that any portions of the Content are not my own creation, they are used with the copyright holder’s express permission or as permitted by law. Additionally, the Content does not infringe the copyrights or other intellectual property rights of another, nor does the Content violate any laws or another’s rights of privacy or publicity.
- The Content contains no restricted, private, confidential, or otherwise protected data or information that should not be publicly shared.

I understand that the Digital Conservancy will do its best to provide perpetual access to my Content. In order to support these efforts, I grant the Regents of the University of Minnesota (“University”), through its Digital Conservancy, the following non-exclusive, perpetual, royalty-free, world-wide rights and licenses:

- to access, reproduce, distribute and publicly display the Content, in whole or in part, in order to secure, preserve and make it publicly available, and
- to make derivative works based upon the Content in order to migrate the Content to other media or formats, or to preserve its public access.

These terms do not transfer ownership of the copyright(s) in the Content. These terms only grant to the University the limited license outlined above.
